Anti-Saloon Crusade Is Again on at Kansas City, Kan.

THREATS OF TICKET

If Owners of Buildings Persist in Renting to Liquor Sellers the Assistant Attorney General
Will Take Action.

Kansas City, June 28.—The anti-saloon crusade at Kansas City, Kan., was renewed Thursday with increased vigor. In addition to destroying stocks of liquor and bar fixtures, C. W. Trickett, assistant attorney general, appointed by Governor Hoch to enforce the prohibition law, threatened to demolish saloon buildings if owners persist in renting places to saloon men. Many of these buildings are owned by brewing companies. Attorney General Trickett has begun sending out warnings to property owners. "This is to notify you," read the warnings, "that if you permit said premises to be again used for the sale of intoxicating liquors, so as to make necessary the issuance of a second writ of abatement, I shall order the premises sufficiently demolished so no third trip will be necessary, and in addition cite you for contempt of court for aiding and assisting violation of law or order of court."

There are about 100 saloons in Kansas City, Kan., about fifty of which have been closed. A portion of the property was destroyed Wednesday and Thursday officials continued to spill liquor and break up costly bars, tables and other furniture.

DENATURED DISTILLERY.

Governor of Kansas Favors Establishment of One in State.

Topeka, June 28.—Governor Hoch is in favor of the establishment of a state denatured alcohol distillery in Kansas. "Such a distillery," said the governor, "would furnish means for employing a large number of convicts, and the courts could not declare the law invalid on the grounds set up against the state oil refinery measure. This law would have the same effect as expected from the oil refinery measure in that it would reduce the price of light and fuel to consumers." In the fight against the Standard Oil company last winter the Kansas legislature passed a bill providing for the establishment of a state oil refinery to be operated by convicts. The court declared the measure to be unconstitutional.

AT CRESCENT CITY.

Complaints of Independents Heard by Interstate Commerce Commission.

New Orleans, June 28.—Investigation by the interstate commerce commission into complaints from independent oil dealers that transportation rates in the southern states are excessive and prohibitive was begun here Thursday.

James W. Wise, manager of the Wise Oil company of Shreveport, was the first witness. He testified he paid 15 cents per 100 for shipping oil from Shreveport to Robeline, La., on the Texas and Pacific, a distance of seventy miles, while the rate was 27 cents per 100 for forty miles' haul from Shreveport to Mansfield, La., a station on the Texas and Pacific between Shreveport and Robeline.

T. C. Freeman, general solicitor of the Texas and Pacific, told the commission that if these rates existed they must have been fixed by the Louisiana railroad commission.

Mr. Wise said he paid 21 cents per 100 for a haul of ten miles from Shreveport to Bodeau, on the Vicksburg and Pacific line.

MORE MONEY GIVEN.

Texas Secures Considerable Additional Cash For Buildings.

Washington, June 28.—The senate committee on public buildings has added $142,000 to Texas items in house public buildings bill, as follows: Houston raised $50,000; Temple and San Marcos each $10,000 for sites; Palestine raised $1,000; Greenville gets $80,000 for building and site instead of $8,000 for site as house bill provides.

JERE DUNN DEAD.

Achieved Notoriety Many Years Ago by Killing Jim Elliott.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 28.—Jere Dunn, a widely known sporting man, died here of cancer. Some twenty years ago he achieved considerable notoriety by killing Jim Elliott in Chicago at the time when Elliott, who was a noted pugilist of that day, was matched to fight John L. Sullivan. Dunn was acquitted on the plea of self-defense.

Accuses New Yorker of Being Responsible For Article

IN ONE PUBLICATION.

Texas Senator Said He Spent Less Money in Six Campaigns Than Did Newspaper Man in One Ward.

Washington, June 28.—The first reply in the senate to the series of articles running through the Cosmopolitan Magazine under the head of "The Treason of the Senate," was made Wednesday by Senator Bailey, who spoke especially of the attack upon himself and generally of the attacks upon other senators. The Texas senator read a portion of his speech from manuscript, and he spoke with even more than his ordinary deliberation, beginning with the statement that he did not make a policy to take notice of criticisms. He said that the fact that the Cosmopolitan is owned by a member of Congress takes the case out of the general run. He then spoke of the published matter as "false and offensive," but said that he did not propose to consider it from a personal standpoint, "because it is of a kind which, if dealt with in that way, would require a different place." He then added:

Indeed, if I considered it purely and only from a personal point of view, I should not regard it as worthy of any notice.

Mr. Bailey then discussed at length the charges in the magazine article that he had lent himself to a scheme whereby the anti-trust law of to-day had been evaded by a foreign corporation. Of this, he said that it had "been thoroughly investigated by the very legislature which elected me to the senate, and it was shown to be so entirely unjust and absurd that the decent men among my most implacable enemies in Texas no longer believe it."

After giving the details connected with the matter, Mr. Bailey said:

"As so often happens in the bitterness of political strife, the occasion was seized upon and magnified in many ways, and it was charged that I had received a fee ranging from $50,000 to $500,000, according to the imagination of the relator. Finally, one man who was more reckless than the rest, and who happened to be a member of the Texas legislature, introduced a resolution directing an inquiry into my connection with the case."

This inquiry, Mr. Bailey said, was seconded by himself and friends.

"A committee was appointed, consisting of the first gentleman who had supported me in my race for the senate, and three who had supported my opponent, resulting in a vindication."

The committee had, he said, made a report unanimously exonerating him and the state officers from every shadow of offense.

The Texas senator also made reference to the magazine charges that he had been a party to an effort to cheat the Indians in Indian Territory out of their coal lands, which would have been successful but for the efforts of Senator La Follette. He then called upon Mr. La Follette to say that he (Mr. Bailey) had not co-operated with him in doing which he (La Follette) had done.

The Wisconsin representative responded promptly, saying: "I take great pleasure in saying that I conferred with the senator from Texas before I offered anything bearing on the disposition of the coal lands of Indian Territory, and that I received valuable advice as to what I proposed to do."

Mr. Bailey spoke in praise of the generality of newspapers and magazines, and compared the Cosmopolitan to the outcasts of society.

He then referred to another article which he said had appeared in the New York Evening Journal, a paper bearing Mr. Hearst's name, the day after the article in the Cosmopolitan had made its appearance.

"There it is," he exclaimed, holding the excerpt from the Journal out at full arm's length. "There it is—a double column of mendacity and malice—and yet the only direct reference to me is that I have voted to give away the public lands to the corporations, in the face of a record to the contrary."

He then detailed the fact that the article in the newspaper had advised its readers to buy the magazine. This he attributed to the fact that Mr. Hearst had guaranteed $500,000 worth of the bonds of the magazine company.

"Heart's magazine prints slander," he said, "and then Heart's newspapers advise readers to buy the magazine."

Mr. Bailey asserted that in all the six congressional campaigns made by him (five for the house and one for the senate, winning all,) he had not spent as much money as Mr. Hearst had spent in one ward in his recent race for mayor of Greater New York.

Mr. Bailey had a large and attentive audience, both in the galleries and on the senate floor. When he concluded he was loudly applauded and warmly congratulated by senators and members of the house.

REVIVAL AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Evangelist Rogers Preaches Able Sermons on Prayer and Faith—Interst Growing—Fine Music

The revival service at the Christian church Wednesday night was attended by a good congregation and the singing was fine. The sermon by the Evangelist was on "Faith" and there was deep interest manifested by all present. Indeed, the interest is increasing all the time. The key note of the sermon was that every one, perhaps, of the congregation had all the faith necessary to save them, only it was a dead faith because they would not put it in action. That from the teaching of christian parents in Sunday school, in going to church, they all believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God. All that was necessary for that faith to save them was to follow it, vivify it by putting it in action by obeying the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. That all have that much faith, and that if they had all faith this is all they could use in coming to Christ.

The service yesterday morning was of especial interest and deeply devotional; again the sermon was on prayer from the words of the Lord—"When two of you agree, as touching anything, ask for it in my name and it shall be done."

First: Pray for a specific object and pray with faith and agree upon it.

Second: Let the specific object of your prayers be for fifty conversions in the meeting.

Third: Pray that every saint attend every service, and that christians cease bringing reproach upon the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ, and giving sinners an excuse by showing they think more of their business than they do of Christ and salvation of souls, by staying with their business and away from His service.

Fourth: Pray that every christian home in this town become an altar of family prayer.

Fifth: Pray for the co-operation and assistance of every christian in Bryan in this meeting.

All are cordially invited to attend every service, and may God show the business man that they set the world above Christ when they neglect this God sent opportunity. J. L. Crane, Pastor.

ARMSTRONG-ERWIN.

The following announcement cards have been received by friends in this city:

"Mr. and Mrs. Henry Erwin announce the marriage of their daughter, Tex, to Mr. Volney E. Armstrong on the evening of Tuesday, June twenty-sixth, nineteen hundred and six, Kaufman, Texas."

Mr. Armstrong is a son of Mrs. T. E. Armstrong of Dallas. He was raised in Bryan and has many friends in this city who rejoice with him in his happiness. Mr. Armstrong is a leading young business man of Dallas, and has for a number years held the responsible position of cashier of the National Bank of Commerce of Dallas. The Eagle extends congratulations.

Mr. W. W. Mike requests the Eagle to express his sincere thanks to friends and neighbors for their kindly ministrations to his wife during her illness and for the attention and sympathy manifested incident to her death. Each and all will be held in grateful remembrance.

Jerome Harrison, after a visit to his parents, Col. and Mrs. J. G. Harrison, at College, leaves today for San Antonio where he will accept a position for several months. He will return to Boston, Mass., in the fall.

Hon. Richard Mays of Corsicana was here yesterday accompanied by C. C. Walton. They left for Thornedale and will return to Bryan today and Mr. Mays will speak at Harvey tonight and fill other appointments appearing elsewhere in the Eagle this morning.

THE NEW VISIBLE

At Last a Perfect Visible Typewriter

The One Typewriter That Correctly Solves the Objections That Have Always Heretofore Been Made Against "Front Strike" Machines.

Visible writing has always been considered as desirable by practically all typewriter manufacturers, but the difficulties to be overcome in construction in order to secure durability have discouraged the very large adoption of these machines. The invention of the method of assembling the type bars as it is done in the Fox Visible has, however, made possible the use of a wide pivotal bearing in the type hanger, thus insuring the most perfect alignment at all times and a durability that is equal to that claimed for any "basket type" machine. In building this new model, we have all the advantage of the knowledge that we have gained in building and placing the regular Fox models on the market and we are able to avoid all those experiments found in new machines which are so expensive to the purchaser.

Here is a Short Description.

THE TYPE HANGER—The hanger has a pivot bearing 7-16 of an inch wide. This allows the use of a heavy type bar, providing an adjustable pivot bearing which takes up wear as it occurs, thereby giving a permanent alignment that is impossible to secure with a narrow bearing without adjustment, and avoiding the trouble caused where "forced alignment" is necessary. This is the feature that has heretofore been considered as being impossible to secure in a visible writing typewriter. It is found only in the Fox and places the Fox Visible in a class by itself.

TWO COLOR RIBBON—The ribbon movement on this machine is simply perfection. It reverses and oscillates automatically, requiring no attention from the operator from the time it is put on until worn out. When a two color ribbon is used, by simply touching a button on the keyboard the second color is secured instantly without raising the hand or even looking.

THE INTERCHANGEABLE CARRIAGE—The carriage is so constructed that it can be quickly removed and a carriage of different length substituted. One machine can be purchased with different sizes of carriages, thereby effecting a great saving over the ordinary method of buying a long carriage machine complete. The carriage is ball bearing and runs with a tension of only 1 lb.

PERFECT VISIBLE WRITING—The entire line is visible all the time.

THE KEY TENSION—The force required on the part of the operator to print a letter is only 2½ ounces. This is from 25 to 50 per cent. less than any other. It is a vital thing both from the operator's standpoint of less fatigue and the owner's of greater durability.

THE LINE LOCK—When the carriage reaches the end of a line, the keys lock and nothing more can be written until the release button is used or the carriage returned to begin a new line.

ALUMINUM KEY LEVERS—Key levers are made of aluminum. It is more expensive than steel or wood, but it is very much more desirable.

TABULATOR—The Fox ten stop decimal tabulator is attached when ordered, at slight additional expense. It is the only decimal tabulator in use on a visible typewriter.

Every feature on this machine has been tried out and demonstrated as successful on the Regular Models of the Fox. Unprejudiced experts have without hesitation pronounced the machine a marvel.

Ask your nearest typewriter dealer to show you this machine. If he cannot we will make it easy for you.

The regular models of the Fox are still the most perfect machines of their kind and their manufacture will be continued as before.

CAT IN THE SADDLE

RIDES ON THE BACK OF DOG THAT SAVED IT.

Shepherd Rescues the Feline from the River and Thereafter the Pair Become Friends.

McKeever, N. Y.—William North has an Angora cat that has struck up such a friendship for his shepherd dog that he rides on his back wherever he goes, feeds with him, and even scratches up the bones he has buried and carries them to him. The odd part of it is that the cat was the dog's sworn enemy until a few weeks ago, when he gallantly saved him from drowning.

The cat, which glories in the name of Mike, was fishing from a log in a fair sized river not far from the house, when the log broke loose from the bank and floated into the stream. Tom, the dog, had been hunting for a bell cow, and was on his way home when he was attracted by the cries of his enemy, Mike. For a few moments he seemed to enjoy the cat's discomfiture, but suddenly Mr. North saw him run down the river a few rods and jump in above a series of falls.

The moment he struck water Tom struck out diagonally across stream and lay in the path of the floating log. As it passed he grabbed the cat by the scruff of the neck and swam with him to shore. Then he stuck his nose in the air, shook the cold water from his shaggy hair, and trotted home. The cat followed, and that night began a series of diplomatic endeavors to gain Tom's affections. First he declined to steal his dinner; then he brought his hero a fat mouse; then, finally, when he refused to more than wiggle the end of his tail, he dug up one of his bones and lugged it to him. This act of servitude won Tom's heart, and the next day Mike was allowed to follow him about at a respectful distance. By the end of a week both animals were eating from the same dish, and at the expiration of a fortnight Mr. North was surprised to observe Mike riding about the farm on the shepherd's back. He has spent most of his time in the "saddle" ever since, and if any other dog offers Mike insult he is likely to pay dearly for his folly. While the disputes are in progress Mike will take the nearest tree and remain in safety until the battle is over.

Mr. North objected to taking Mike along to the village and to the creamery mornings, but Tom balked, and the result was that Mike made the trips on his back. He now goes for the cows with the dog, rides him to the grist mill, and, in fact, is constantly with him. Once, when Tom got in a fight with a thieving fox, Mike proved a valiant aid, and between the two Reynard was killed.

LIVED TO GOLDEN JUBILEE.

Dominican General Who Fifty Years Ago Was Not Expected to Live.

New York.—The Rev. Hyacinth M. Cormier, master general of the Dominicans, who celebrated the golden jubilee of his admission to priesthood on May 17, was not expected to live long when he was ordained a priest and later when admitted into the order.

Henry Cormier was born at New Orleans December 8, 1832. On May 17, 1856, he received priesthood, by dispensation, as he was not yet 24.

He immediately chose to enter the Order of St. Dominic, but it was very doubtful for a long time whether he could realize his hope. His health was so very delicate that he seemed unable to bear the austerities of the religious life.

He had frequent hemorrhages and a delay of two years was required to see whether his health would improve. Then the pope consented to his admission, provided at least a month should elapse between his attacks of illness.

Once 29 days passed without a return of the trouble and Plus IX. yielded his consent. Father Hyacinth, which name he had taken, was professed at Santa Sabina in Rome, May 23, 1859.

But it was not dreamed by those about him that he would live to take up the work of the order. In fact he had been anointed a few days before his reception and the end seemed close at hand.

Forty-five years later, however, in 1904, he was made general of the order, and he celebrated the golden jubilee of his admission to priesthood.

Indians to Work in Beet Fields.

Students from the Chillicothe Indian schools will help the sugar beet raisers in the vicinity of Rocky Ford, Col., care for their crops this year. The other afternoon two car loads of Indian students, 154 in number, left the schools in charge of Assistant Superintendent Lipps for Rocky Ford. They will be in the entire summer here, or until the beet crop has been gathered. The Indians will receive good wages for their work and will return to the schools in the fall.

New Pen Metal.

Both steel and gold pens are, apparently, doomed. Dr. Werner von Bolton delivered before the Electro-Technical association in Berlin the other day an address in which he described the new metal tantanite, which is so hard that a diamond drill makes no impression on it. Pens made from it are indestructible, and more elastic than gold pens.

DUE TO PRINTERS' "PI."

Queer Libel Suit Arising from Accident in English Newspaper Office.

London.—Libel laws in England are enforced with great severity, and accidents of the kind that will happen in the best regulated newspapers, occasionally have to be paid for just as though they were the products of villainy and malice aforethought. An instance of this occurred the other day which has caused a Surrey newspaper to be mulcted in $150 damages. Going to press in a hurry, two stories got mixed up, one relating to a woman's suit for divorce and the other to a police court case.

The transition from one to the other must have baffled a good many readers. "It had been held in a very old case," ran the report, "that when the donor remained in possession, a deed of gift that the persistent annoyance and blackmail would not be allowed to go on. Witness had her under observation." But newspaper readers are hurried people in these days, and probably many gave up the sentence as unintelligible, and saw nothing improbable in the eventual fact that "she"—the wrong "she"—was bound over in $50 to keep the peace for six months. But having failed to get a divorce she saw here a brilliant chance to obtain financial solace for her disappointment. Accordingly she brought suit for damages, and in vain the editor and the foreman of the composing room endeavored to make a stolid British jury understand how easily such a blunder might happen, and how impossible it was under modern newspaper conditions to take such precautions as would prevent it.

REAL CAUSE OF CRIME.

Criminal Classes Recruited from Paupers Who Have Become Disheartened.

New York.—A simple method of abolishing vice and crime in New York and other large cities is announced by Prof. Alexander Haig, the distinguished English physician and physiologist to the British hospital in London.

The criminal classes, according to him, are recruited from the pauper classes, who, after they "lose heart," become unemployable and degenerate into chronic loafers, beggars or thieves.

This thing of losing heart, Dr. Haig says, is not a mere sentimental or emotional state, but is an actual, physical degeneration of the heart, due to insufficient nourishment. He says:

"I believe that when the poor and unemployed lose heart it means that the heart muscle is at last sharing with the other muscles in the general malnutrition. As the result of this the heart probably fails and dilates, and is perhaps never again able to keep up the same blood pressure, to produce the same muscular nutrition and the former strength of muscle, of nerve, or of will power.

"No doubt if such a person were carefully dieted and rested for months that person would return to a normal or approximately normal condition. But poor people never have this chance. The most they can hope is that as spring comes around an increase of work may lift them above the verge of starvation, and their hearts therefore never have an opportunity of completely recovering."

PELICANS IN KANSAS.

Large Flock of the Ungainly Birds Hover Over a Town for Hours.

Pittsburg.—The other day a large flock of pelicans flew over the town of Hepler. One of the birds was shot and it fell into the large railroad pond. After it had been shot the flock hovered over the pond for three or four hours, circling higher and higher till they were out of gunshot reach.

It was after night before the flock abandoned the wounded bird and continued their journey northward. The bird that was shot was not killed, but was disabled in one of its wings. It was a fine large bird, standing about four feet high and measuring eight feet from tip to tip of its wings.

It was as white as snow with the exception that it has one or two black feathers in the tip of the wings. Its beak is about one foot in length, with a pouch underneath large enough to hold about one gallon of water. The flock had probably been disturbed and driven out of their course to the northern lakes.

Woman Rail Splitter.

Hattie Grider, a widow, and her young daughter walked here from the backwoods country, several miles from Gradyville, Ky., and were almost starving. She said she was afraid she was a burden to the city, and asked the policemen to get her a position splitting rails, as she was accustomed to doing that sort of labor in addition to her housework. She was surprised when informed that there was nothing doing in that line here for women. She said she came to Indianapolis in search of her brother, but his name could not be found in the directory.

Battleships for Chili.

Chili has adopted a programme of naval construction to be carried out in eight years, which includes four powerful battleships, another larger dry-dock, the complete fortification of Africa and six other ports, several fast cruisers, destroyers, torpedo boats and submarines.

TOLD IN VISIONS

COMEDIES AND TRAGEDIES THAT BESET DREAMER.

Mystery That Has Always Had a Remarkable Fascination for Mankind—Authentic and Strange Cases.

From the time of Joseph's interpretations in Egypt—and long before, no doubt—the mystery of dreams has had a remarkable fascination for mankind. Passing strange are their prophecies and warnings, and stranger still when these come true, as is often the case. By what mystic power are dreams enabled to project the visual sense through space, to lift the curtain that veils the future?

Quite often dreams foretell disaster, or deal with some trouble that besets the dreamer. Still, dreams have their comedies as well as tragedies and not infrequently essay the role of assistant to Master Cupid.

Missing persons and lost property are sometimes found through the agency of dreams. The death angel, hovering near, seems especially liable to cast its dream shadow over a sleeper.

Real trouble assailed Mrs. Joseph H. Pineau, of Williamsport, Pa., a few weeks ago when she missed her jewels. Believing that she had been robbed during a spell of sickness, she had a servant arrested on suspicion.

That night Mrs. Pineau dreamed that she saw her jewels at the bottom of a basket containing china-ware. In the morning she hastened to the closet where the basket was, explored beneath the china and there found her gems, just as she had seen them in her sleep.

While hunting in the woods last winter William Ward, of Freeland, Pa., lost a watch. It was two weeks before the dream in this case revealed the spot where the watch lay, but when Mr. Ward made a search there he found it.

Warnings of disaster frequently come to sleeping persons. While traveling through Texas a short time ago a woman living in Upper Sandusky, O., dreamed that her barn was burned and two valuable horses lost with it. She related the dream to several persons. That day she received information that her barn had actually burned and the details tallied with her vision.

Startled from sleep by a vivid dream that his best Alderney cow was choking to death in the stable, Robert Rickards, a prominent farmer of Bridgeville, Del., hurried at dead of night to his barnyard a short time ago. He found the cow was really choking and it died before he could effect relief.

Falling from the fifteenth story of the Chandler building, in course of erection at Atlanta, Ga., Peter McGarry, an iron worker, was dashed to death a few days ago.

The strange part of the story is that only the morning of the accident Foreman Peck, who had charge of the iron and steel workers, halted his men as they were about to begin their labors and warned them very earnestly to be careful.

"I dreamed," he said, "that one of the men fell from the top of the building and was killed. I have been unable to get the terrible impression off my mind and I request that each of you exercise more than usual caution in your work."

Dominic Carmono, of Mount Washington, Pa., dreamed that his nephew, Giuseppe Samazzi, was dead. When he read in the newspapers that an unknown man had been killed by falling from a car on the Smithfield street bridge, Pittsburg, he felt convinced that the unfortunate was his nephew. Calling at the morgue he made the identification.

"I guess you will not laugh at my dreams again," remarked Mrs. Gunderson to her husband.

SMALL HOUSE IS FREAK.

Built in Conway, Eng., Where Real Estate Is Not Excessively High in Price.

Examples of very narrow houses are not confined necessarily to great cities where real estate is high. The picturesque freak house in the accompanying illustration is in Conway, England. From the doorway a small ladder leads to the single bedroom. It is inhabited by an old lady who turns an honest penny by exhibiting her house and selling photographs of it.

SENT WORKING MODEL.

Seven-Ton Pump Forwarded to Patent Office in Washington by the Inventor.

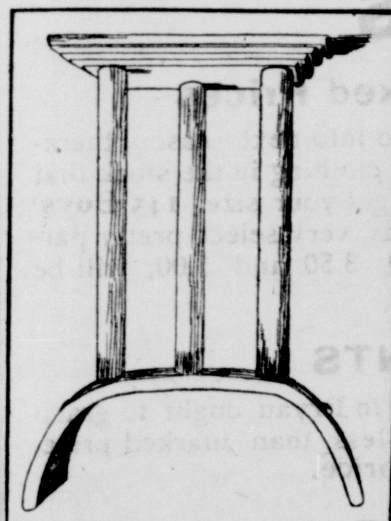

Sometimes the rigors of patent office procedure are not without their humorous side. A New York attorney filed an application for improvements in a centrifugal pump. The patent office examiner declared the invention inoperative, and demanded a working model. The patent office was requested to send an examiner to Trenton to inspect the machine in actual operation, but this the office refused to do. The attorney, therefore, politely sent a seven-ton pump to the patent office from Trenton to satisfy a skeptical examiner, according to the Scientific American. Twenty-one men were required to get it into the examiner's office.—Railway Age.

THIRSTY NEW YORKERS.

Enormous Consumption of Whisky and Other Spirituous Liquors in the Metropolis.

The borough of Manhattan annually consumes 100,000 barrels of whisky, which cost the consumers $2,500,000. To this item must be added 30,000 barrels of other spirits, sold for $350,000; 200,000 cases of champagne, for which $5,500,000 is paid; 4,000,000 gallons of other wines and brandies, costing $27,000,000, and last but not least important, 5,000,000 barrels of beer, selling for $100,000,000. This makes a total of $135,000,000—a sum sufficient to create and maintain forever a great university like Yale or Harvard. It is a fact rather interesting to consider that if all this beer and liquor were put into a tank and were allowed to run through an ordinary water tap at the rate of a gallon a minute the receptacle would require 99 years and 36 days to empty itself.—Pearson's Magazine.

STOOL CARVED FROM BONES.

This style of carved stool is made of bones and used by natives of Africa.

Took Examination for Fun.

Chief Engineer Crouzbauer, of Brooklyn, was looking for a chauffeur and from a list of civil service eligibles picked the man at the top, Patrick Maher. He sent for Maher and offered him the job. "What's the salary?" asked Maher. "Three dollars a day," was the reply. "I don't think I can take that," said Maher. "Have you got a better job?" asked Crouzbauer. "I think so," replied Maher, solemnly. "What is it?" "Oh," explained Maher, "I'm battalion chief in the fire department, and I get $3,500 a year." Maher said he was in the habit of taking a civil service examination occasionally to keep his mental machinery from getting rusty.

In Bostonese.

"Come in, Waldonia," said her mother. "You have been in that swing long enough."

"Presently, mamma," answered the little Boston girl. "I am permitting the carnivorous quadruped of the genus Felis to slacken its physical activities and pass by imperceptible gradations into a condition of total extinct vitality."—Chicago Tribune.

SCHOOLS OF INSTRUCTION

Railway Companies Bringing Knowledge to People Along Their Lines.

Several railroad companies have of late undertaken the part of school teacher. Five years ago the "Good Roads Train" went south from Chicago laden with model apparatus for making roads, and manned by experts who gave practical demonstrations in road making. A hundred thousand farmers in Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri and the Dakotas remember the "Seed Corn Special" and other agricultural colleges on wheels which came through a year or so ago distributing the best information that could be gathered by the state universities and the state and national departments of agriculture. Later a northern New England railroad company took up this idea, already familiar in the south and west, and sent out a "Better Farming Special." Several other companies have done much to build up and beautify towns on which the prosperity of their business depends. The "peripatetic schools" are supported partly by the railroads, partly by other associations or companies interested in the prosperity of the country. The railway companies do a service to the people to whom they bring knowledge and encouragement, and in turn they profit by the increase of production along their lines.

MAKE THEIR OWN LEGS.

Railroads Provide Wooden Members for Victims of Accidents on Their Lines.

"Several railroads in this country make their own wooden legs," said a surgeon.

His auditor shuddered. "Rather ghastly, that," "Ghastly in a way," the surgeon admitted, "but sensible, too. The railroads are by far the largest consumers of wooden legs. Why, then, shouldn't they have their own wooden leg factories?"

"There's something in what you say."

"Of course there is," declared the surgeon. "Our American railroads kill, on the average, 3,000 people a year and injure 40,000. With the killed we've nothing to do, but the injured, at 40,000 per annum, run up to the enormous total of 200,000 in five years or 400,000 in ten years. Why buy wooden legs for all that army? Why not manufacture them direct and thus save the profit of the middlemen?"

"The Standard Oil company, our greatest consumer of barrels, has its own barrel works. With the same wisdom some of our railroads, in order to curtail expenses, have their own wooden leg mills."

FORGOT PUPS HE CHECKED

Passenger Left Three Pretty Little Fellows in Check Room and Failed to Return.

In the checkroom in the central station of the free library umbrellas, Canes, bundles and satchels are frequently left behind by forgetful persons, but the most troublesome articles that ever were left there, relates the Philadelphia Record, were not articles at all, but three white, shaggy puppies which were deposited on a recent afternoon and have not yet been called for.

The young man who attends to the checking is so accustomed to having peculiar things shoved at him that he did not particularly notice the man who asked him to mind the dogs while he went in after a book. When closing time came, however, he became annoyed that the owner had not claimed his property, so he informed the librarian.

The library force was considerably troubled at first as to the disposal of the dogs, but decided to keep them in the check room and feed them until the owner called. If the owner does not remove the puppies it is probable that some one in the library will adopt them, for they are pretty dogs and are making themselves at home.

"Spiral" Railroad in Africa.

In the construction of the Amabele-Butterworth railway, in Cape Colony, unusual difficulties had to be surmounted, and the result is, from an engineering point of view, one of the most remarkable railways in existence. After passing through the Kei hills the line winds round another hill, and then, at a lower level, goes under its own track. This portion of the railway is known as the "spiral." At another point the line travels along the bank of the Mangula river for two miles and then doubles back for a mile and a half, so that after covering three and a half miles the train is really only half a mile to the good. This section is called the "zigzag," and, with the spiral, is unique in South Africa. All along the Kei heights the route is through cuttings or on embankments. Some idea of its extraordinary character may be formed from the statement that in 18 miles the line falls, or rises, to the extent of 1,560 feet.

In Agreement.

Mrs. Neybore—I bought a new piece of music for my daughter to play, and I think she'll master it soon. She was trying all the afternoon.

FACTS AS TO ACCIDENTS.

Showing That Overwork Is a Frequent Cause on the Railroads.

One of the most important tables ever compiled by the interstate commerce commission has been supplied by Secretary Moseley to Senator Tillman, who procured its printing as a public document, reports the Philadelphia Record. It is a list of collisions and derailments where the employees had been on duty an excessive number of hours and a list of personal injuries to employees due to having been at work excessively long.

These are railroad reports and not the results of investigations by the commission and they do not include personal injuries that had no obvious connection with the condition of the employee. The facts disclosed by this tabulation are startling.

Eight railroad men were killed and 13 injured as the result of accidents caused by overwork. In one case a man who had been on duty 32 hours was sent out flagging and went to sleep on the track. In nine other cases in this list of personal injuries men had been at work continuously for 20 hours or more.

In collisions and derailments due to lack of sleep or exceptional fatigue, 35 persons were killed and 147 injured. In one case the man had been at work 48 hours. In nine cases men had been at work 24 hours or more—one was 47½ hours at work and another was 38 hours—and in several other instances men had been at work more than 20 hours.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

System in Use on England's Railways and Its Method of Operation.

Train telegraphy without wires is the English way. The system was conceived by Sir Oliver Lodge and Dr. Alexander Muirhead. Their biggest problem has been with the aerial wire. In order to make tests under the most disadvantageous conditions an old car was used as a receiving station. The aerial wires were carried on porcelain insulators, the height of the wires varying from nine to 115 inches above the curvature of the roof. From the roof the wires are carried in a small cable through a special insulated fitting to the interior of the van to the receiving instrument; here the message is written by a Lodge-Muirhead siphon recorder. The transmitting station is situated in a hut near Derby with an installation of apparatus for sending the message into the air. Outside the cabin is the aerial wire, which follows conventional lines, being supported upon masts 40 feet from the ground and connected with a spark gap and coil for increasing the strength of the electrical impulse discharged from the transmitting instruments at the station. The experimenters find the greatest difficulty is due to the large amount of electrical energy required to obtain successful conversation on account of the short aerial wire used at the receiving station.

THE MEN OF THE RAIL.

Through Time and Space in a furious race
Spurning the midnight gales,
The steel steels reels on flying wheels
Over the shining rails;
With good cigars in the sleeping cars,
Cozy and safe and warm,
Ye pay small heed to the headlong speed
And the men who breast the storm.

When the signal flares and red light glances
Out of the darkness dread,
Scant time is there for oath or prayer
By the men who ride ahead;
With rapid thought is the quick deed wrought
That checks the rushing train,
And it's hit or miss, as the air tubes hiss
And the brake rods grind and strain.

'Tis theirs to dare both foul and fair
Just as the Lord may send,
With steadfast heart from the whirling stars
To the good or evil end;
It's all in the work, though Leath may hulk
In the rainy gloom before,
They laugh at fear in the muddy cheer
That streams from the furnace door.

Now this is the dream of the sons of steam,
Men of the cab and rail,
"A level track and no looking back
From the lure of the homeward trail;
We'll strike right through on a schedule true
And never a moment late,
For there's no delay on the right of way
When we pay our debts to Fate."
—George T. Pardy, in Chicago Examiner.

Security of Freight Cars.

"During 1905," writes George R. Metcalf, M. E., in the March Technical World Magazine, "the railroads of the United States ordered new locomotives to the number of 6,300, together with 3,300 passenger cars and 340,000 freight cars. These last figures give a good idea of the relative importance of passenger and freight traffic to a large railroad. The rail mills started the new year with orders for 2,500,000 tons on their books. "In spite of these great orders and in spite of the best efforts of the railroad managers, pile after pile of thousands of bushels of corn has been heaped up on the ground in Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska for want of storage room or transportation facilities; while in North Dakota alone, over a million bushels of wheat has rotted on the ground for want of freight cars to move it."

Really Observing.

"Where you going, Pheasant?" asked the old lady on the train.
"Up in the 'Observation car,'" replied her husband, with a grin.
"Why, the observation car is on behind."
"No, it ain't; it's up front. That's four honeymoon couples up there."—Chicago Daily News.

BRYAN, TEXAS, JUNE 29.

A. AND M. FOOTBALL NEWS

The Eleven to Go Out of the State for the First Time.

College Station, Texas, June 27. —The early part of the schedule of games arranged by the football management of the Agricultural and Mechanical college for next season has not yet been definitely arranged, but it will embrace games with Texas teams. Baylor and Trinity having abolished football, it makes it more difficult to arrange a schedule.

For the first time in its history the college has been enabled to arrange games to be played outside of the state. The team will play Tulane at New Orleans on November 17, and Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge on November 19. Other games already arranged are with Haskell Indians at College Station on November 12, and the usual game at Austin with the State University on Thanksgiving day, November the 29.

The majority of last year's team will be back, including Cornell and Dale, the two guards; Kendrick, tackle; Utay and Richenstein, halves; Dabney, full; also Borah, Warden, Leggett, Noguess, McDaniels and Schmidt. Many new men have signified their intention of coming to college next year and Captain Puckett, the clever end, who is still at the college, is working hard to get together a very strong team. It is hoped that Kelly will return.

Backman, the best football coach probably the college ever had, will, we hope, return and continue the good work of last season.

BY GUNSHOT WOUNDS.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury Returned In The White-Thaw Case.

New York, June 28.—The coroner's jury brought in a verdict that Sanford White came to his death by gunshot wounds inflicted by Harry K. Thaw.

The most important testimony at the inquest was given by Lionel Lawrence, stage director at the Madison Square Roof Garden theater. Lawrence said that immediately after the shooting Mrs. Thaw rushed up to her husband, and, throwing her arms around his neck, said: "Never mind, Harry, I will stick to you through thick or thin." Thaw turned to the crowd which surrounded them and said: "That man ruined my wife, and I got him and I fixed him for it."

Soon after the close of the coroner's inquest proceedings against Thaw begun before the grand jury. At noon Mrs. Harry K. Thaw entered the grand jury room. She was accompanied by her counsel, Judge Olcott and Terrence McManus.

The decision was reached that Mrs. Thaw should refuse to testify before the grand jury, and she pleaded that she should not be made to give any evidence that might be damaging to her husband. Mrs. Thaw asked permission of her husband's counsel to attend the coroner's inquest and sit by his side, but the request was denied.

PACKED WITH PEOPLE.

It Required Over Twenty Policemen to Clear Passageway.

New York, June 28.—When Mrs. Thaw started to leave the tombs after calling upon her husband Thursday the street in front of the prison entrance was so densely packed with people that she was unable to force her way through the door. Half a dozen policemen fought against the crowd in a vain attempt to make a passageway. A score or more of additional police were summoned and succeeded in pushing the crowd back from the prison after Mrs. Thaw had been waiting twenty minutes in the corridor. The crowd around the tombs was one of the largest that has ever gathered around that famous prison.

HEAVILY INSURED.

Stanford White Provided Well For His Better Half.

New York, June 28.—A man connected with the Equitable Life Assurance society said that Stanford White's life was insured in that company for $199,000 by policies taken out at various times in the past twenty years. During that period, it was said, Mr. White paid to the Equitable $90,000 in premiums. All of the policies were made payable to his wife. It is believed that White was heavily insured in other companies as well.

None of the Equitable policies had been taken out recently, as far as could be learned.

THAW INDICTED.

He Must Answer to Charge of Murder in First Degree.

New York, June 28.—The grand jury returned an indictment against Thaw, charging him with murder in the first degree. Thaw will plead to the indictment before Justice Cowan.

Robbery at Thaw Home.

Pittsburg, June 28.—A $60,000 jewelry robbery at the Thaw home is reported.

BRYAN FOR NOMINEE.

Platform Demands Action Against the Trusts and Revision of Tariff.

Milwaukee, June 28.—The platform, as prepared by the committee on resolutions after an all night session, was presented to the Democratic state convention as a whole Thursday for ratification. It strongly endorses W. J. Bryan as the Democratic candidate for president in 1908. Among other things the platform demands enforcement of statutes against all trusts, combinations and monopolies. It favors revision of the present tariff.

Flour Mill Man Dies.

Fort Worth, June 28.—M. P. Bewley, proprietor of the Bewley flour mill, a pioneer flour manufacturer of north Texas, is dead here after a long illness.

Yale Wins Freshmen Eights.

New London, June 28.—In annual regatta Thursday Yale won freshmen eights. Time: Yale, 10:35; Harvard, 10:41.

JUDGE REED SUICIDES.

Court Reporter Fires a Bullet Into His Brain Thursday.

Fort Worth, June 28.—Judge B. R.
Webb, fifty years old, court reporter of the court of civil appeals since the court was organized here through his efforts more than ten years ago, shot himself through the head with a thirty-eight caliber revolver Thursday morning. He went driving in the city park.
He hitched his horse. Two shots were heard. Health failing is blamed for the act. A widow and four children survive.

Mrs. William Bouvet, wife of the man who was reported accidentally killed at noon Tuesday, while taking a revolver from her hand to see why it would not work, is the person named in an affidavit made by a constable charging her with the murder of her husband. She is less than twenty years of age. Her husband was forty-six.

BIDS OPENED.

Professor Martin Elected President of John Tarleton College.

Austin, June 28.—Bids for furnishing supplies to the nine eleemosynary institutions of Texas were opened Thursday by State Purchasing Agent
Anderson in the presence of the governor and comptroller. It will be some time yet before it is known who was successful. It is estimated that it will take between $600,000 and $800,000 of supplies for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1, 1906.

Professor F. M. Martin of Huntsville was elected president of John Tarleton college at Stephenville by the board of trustees of that institution.
Up to the time of his election Professor Martin was superintendent of the city schools of Huntsville. He will assume his new duties July 1. He is a graduate of Washington and Lee university. He succeeds Professor E. E.
Bramlette.

DEATH PENALTY FOR RICE.

Jury at Waco Adjudges Him Guilty of Killing Luther Phelan.

Waco, June 28.—The jury in the case of Mark Rice, charged with the murder of Luther Phelan, which occurred Jan. 6, returned a verdict Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock assessing the death penalty. The case was given to the jury Wednesday night at 11 o'clock, and three ballots were taken before the verdict was reached. The case will be fought to the last resort. Rice received the verdict coolly, but showed much depression.

STEVENSON SLAIN.

It Is Not Known Whether Death Was Accident or Suicide.

Bonham, Tex., June 28.—News has reached this city of the death of King Stevenson, son of Bud Stevenson, at Fulp, nine miles northwest. There are few particulars, but it is stated that Stevenson died by a pistol shot, the weapon used being in his own hands.
The shooting took place at 6 o'clock Thursday morning. It is believed by some that his death is due to accident, while some allege that it was suicide.
He is well known here and his father is one of the best known men in the county.

"SUMMER SAUSAGE."

Eight Cases From Indiana Taken Out, Dumped and Burned.

Houston, June 28.—Eight cases of sausage of fifty pounds each were condemned by the health authorities Thursday morning. Kerosene was poured over it and it was hauled to the country, dumped and burned. It was shipped from Lafayette, Ind., and bore the label, "summer sausage."

DORMITORY BURNS.

Fifty-Eight Girl Students Succeeded In Getting Out.

Knoxville, Tenn., June 28.—The girls' dormitory of the Knox County Industrial school, situated just beyond the city limits, was totally destroyed by fire early Thursday morning. Fifty-eight girls sleeping in the building were aroused and all escaped without injury. The building was a frame structure. It will be reconstructed at once.

Guests of St. Louis.

St. Louis, June 28.—A delegation of Texas business men, representing twenty-seven cities, arrived here Wednesday as the guests of the St. Louis Business Men's league. During a luncheon at the Mercantile club they were addressed by Governor Folk.

Dies Near Annapolis.

Washington, June 28.—Word has been received here that Thomas E.
Waggaman of this city, former treasurer of the Catholic university, who failed for over $4,000,000 about a year ago, died Wednesday at a farm house near Annapolis, Md.

Desires to Be Retired.

Austin, June 28.—Brigadier General Gordon Boone of Navasota filed an application with the adjutant general to be placed on the retired list. Next in line of promotion is Colonel Townsend of the Third regiment.

Alleged Counterfeiter.

Denison, June 28.—Secret service men passed through with a prisoner said to be a long-wanted counterfeiter.
They refused to talk on the matter or divulge his name. Their destination is Fort Leavenworth.

Mrs. J. C. Weaver Dies.

Dallas, June 28.—Mrs. J. C. Weaver, prominent in women federation circles and noted for her charities and other good works, departed this life at an early hour Thursday.

COMING CONVENTION.

More Interest Shown In It Than In Question of Candidates.

Guthrie, June 28.—Citizens of Oklahoma and Indian Territory are showing less interest in the choice of candidates for the state offices than they are in the candidates for membership in the state constitutional convention, to meet next fall. There will be a total of 112 delegates in the convention.
At this time there are not less than 2,000 avowed candidates for delegates in the two territories. A seat in the convention is regarded as carrying more honor than election to congress.

The influence of railroads and other corporations will be one of the important items in the elections. The corporation lawyers have been singled out for defeat above all other aspirants.

Men with a high view of the opportunities offered in the making of the new constitution of the new state declare that members of the convention, while guarding against dangers of untried and radical theories, should make a constitution in keeping with the knowledge of state and national affairs that has been gained in the last ten or fifteen years. Among other questions, the initiative and referendum will doubtless receive the fullest consideration in the convention.

TICKET NAMED.

Pennsylvania Democratic Convention
Selects Candidates For Offices.

Harrisburg, Jan. 28.—The Democratic state convention nominated the following ticket:

Governor—Louis Emory, Jr., of Bradford, the Lincoln party nominee.
Lieutenant Governor—Jere S. Black of York.

Auditor General—W. C. Creasey, the Prohibition nominee.

Secretary of Internal Affairs—John J. Green of Philadelphia.

Mr. Black is a grandson of Judge Jere S. Black, attorney general in President Buchanan's cabinet.

The following reference is made to William Jennings Bryan: "We congratulate the country upon the fact that the only prominence which the present Republican national administration has attained has been achieved by a feeble and pretended application of the principles enunciated by Hon. William Jennings Bryan, the great Democratic commoner, who is now regarded as the certain successor of Theodore Roosevelt to the presidency."

BRYAN AND BAILEY.

Mention of Their Names Applauded by Wisconsin Democrats.

Milwaukee, June 28.—In the Democratic state convention, when Temporary Chairman Gray referred to Hon.
W. J. Bryan as the "embodiment of the principles of Democracy," and hoped "he may live to see the triumph of the cause and answer to the people's call to the helm of state, leaving an official record as stainless as that of his private life," the 700 delegates attending the convention broke forth in tumultuous applause.

Mention of Senator Bailey in connection with the national railroad rate legislation was also greeted with great applause.

FOUND HANGING.

Martin Teel Was Discovered Swinging
From a Rafter.

Trenton, Tex., June 28.—The body of Martin Teel, who lived two and one-half miles west of here, was found hanging from a rafter in a buggy shed at his home.

Pure Food Bill Agreed On.

Washington, June 28.—Senate and house conferees agreed on house pure food bill. It is made a misdemeanor to sell adulterated or misbranded food, drugs, medicines or liquors. It prescribes for each offense a fine not to exceed $500, one year's imprisonment or both, within the discrimination of the court, and for each subsequent offense a fine of not less than $1,000, or one year's imprisonment.

Eleven-Pound Twin Boys.

Corsicana, June 28.—Mrs. Marshall, wife of a well-to-do farmer living on one of Hon. R. Q. Mills' farms, gave birth to twin boys, each of which, the attending physician says, weighed precisely eleven pounds.
